*Significant Other Policy	A "Significant Other" of a member shall mean that a person with whom a member has an exclusive relationship that both the member and the other person intend to be continued in the future. An unmarried member shall identify a person as the "Significant Other" of such member by giving written notice, signed by the member and by the person, to the Secretary. Once the Board approves such membership a "Significant Other" shall enjoy the same privileges as a Spousal Member. The member shall be responsible for all charges incurred by the "Significant Other." If the member's relationship with the "Significant Other" shall terminate, the member shall give prompt written notice of such termination to the Secretary, and any privileges then enjoyed by the "Significant Other" shall immediately terminate. A member may not designate more than one person as a "Significant Other" in any 12-month period without the approval of the Board. Should the member die, the "Significant Other" can choose to terminate the membership immediately, or maintain complete responsibility of the past members account and thus becoming a member themselves, with the approval of the Board. All memberships are personal, not transferable or assignable. Rates subject to change
